

LogRhythm's customizable personal dashboard allows users of differing functional roles to receive actionable alerts in real time on events that are meaningful and applicable to their specific job function or responsibility. This role-based alerting function can deliver alerts via the dashboard or via numerous other mechanisms including SMTP and SNMP.